Dan Logan, Nestor of the press and ancient of the board, has no intention of getting out of the board if he can help it—and he thinks he can. OBJECTS TO BILL

William T, Robinson, senator from Maui, does not look with favor on the Maui, does not look with favor on the saloon elimination bill which Senator C. F. Chillingworth proposes to introduce in the legislature. "The question should be left to the liquor board." said Senator Robinson, yesterday. "It has the power to put the saloons out of business automatically by refusing to renew licenses."

Senator Robinson said the issue should be decided at a plebiscite.

Lurline To Make One More Trip Instead of Leaving

While no definite advices have been received by Castle & Cooke, agents for he Matson Navigation Company, the agency has concluded that the new-liner of this company, the Maui, will not sail from San Francisco on March 7 as planned. It was stated in the shipping office yesterday that she may not ar-

The exact status of the big liner is expected to be learned tonight, upon receipt of the mail on the Wilhelmina. Meanwhile it is certain that the Lurline which, according to plans should now be making her last trip as a regufar passenger liner will return on her

It is intended to remove the Lurline from the boat-a-week schedule of the Matson company as soon as the Maui goes into service and had the lat ter event happened us planned the Lur-line would seave on the old schedule for the last time today. However, to prevent any further at-tempt at injuring the vessels or sinking them, the provost guard on the meg-chantmen was doubled, two companies being put on guard instead of one. As the war has gone on the condition of this rolling stock has deteriorated steadily, and scarcely any of it has been replaced. A shortage of oils has not allowed the proper care of what cars there are; hot boxes on both passenger and freight cars are everyday occurrences. The engines have now to draw such heavy loads that they are going to pieces faster than they used to. Feed and fodder conditions from German livestock improved somewhat through last year's harvests, but only somewhat. The cattle are still thin and scraggly. The milch cattle give less than ever and there is little milk that can be spared for cheese. The cattle, when slaughtered, give less ment than they used to, and so horse meat has had to be resorted to in a degree that is unprecedented.

The available supply of awine has never recovered from the original German mistake of 1914 and 1915, when millions of pigs were slaughtered to save the food that they devoured, only thereby reducing the supply of fat to a dangerous point. The Germans have never forgiven themselves for that short-sightedness.
